Reports on state tax legislation; state appropriations for universities, colleges, and junior colleges; legislation affecting education beyond the high school.

IN THIS ISSUE

FORTY-EIGHT STATES , with Pennsylvania and Massachusetts not included, appropriate nearly $8 billion . . .	1082
Alaska makes two-year gain of 29 1/2 per cent	1083
Louisiana approaches $150 million	1083
Michigan exceeds $417 million; for first time makes appropriations partly "by internal function" rather than "lump-sum" to each constitutionally autonomous institution	1083-1085
South Carolina makes two-year gain of 35 1/2 per cent; reaches about $105 million	1085
Texas appropriates $463 1/2 million; new medical, dental, public health schools getting well under way; state holds rank of fourth among 50 states in total annual appropriations of state tax funds for operation of higher education	1086

Re: The prospective increasing numbers of holders of doctoral degrees--
"It may be tempting to respond to these projections by reducing funds for higher education, or by restricting college and graduate enrollments. To do so would constitute a major change in social policy. If we give way to pessimism, we are likely to lay the basis for other difficulties in later years.... We should not now try to reduce future graduation rates just because, for the time being, we seem to have quite an ample supply."

-- Dael L. Wolfle, professor of public policy at the University of Washington.

Statement of ownership and circulation of GRAPEVINE is on page 1082 (reverse hereof).

Table 85. Appropriations of state tax funds for operating expenses of higher education for fiscal year 1972-73 by forty-eight states, as of September 1, 1972, in thousands of dollars.

* See Table 76, GRAPEVINE page 1076.

 The percentage of gain over two years in this instance is not computed on the amount of dollar gain shown in Column 5, because state support of Technical Education Centers ($11,187,000) was reported as part of the higher education system in 1972-73 for the first time. The comparable sum for 1970-71 was $8,660,000, and this was added to the figure in Column 2 to compute accurately the gain over two years as 35 1/2 per cent.

The complete annual summary for fiscal year 1972-73 now awaits reports from Massachusetts and Pennsylvania-- two large states which will eventually boost the total considerably. The next issue of GRAPEVINE (October 1972) will carry the yearly summary; and it is expected that the data will receive wide national distribution through two other sources simultaneously: the Office of Research and Information of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, One Dupont Circle, Washington, D. C. 20036 will probably announce the thirteenth annual edition of Appropriations of State Tax Funds for Operating Expenses of Higher Education; and the weekly CHRONICLE OF HIGHER EDUCATION, 1717 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. 20036 will presumably publish an annual résumé of the subject.

Michigan receives an unusual amount of space in this issue, to afford a little more detailed sketch of one of the largest and best state systems of public education.

The legislature has departed from the long-established custom of lump-sum appropriations to constitutionally autonomous universities and colleges; but the situation is saved, in part, by the substantial sums appropriated for "General support," "Instructional support," and "Other instruction," which give the governing boards wide elbow-room.

Table 89. Supplements Table 88, to show appropriations of state tax funds to 29 public junior colleges in Michigan, fiscal year 1972-73, in thousands.

* The figures are necessarily approximations, because the exact amounts to be allocated from an over-all appropriation for salary increases can not be known for some time. In order to make the approximations, an average of 3.4 per cent has been added to the salary figures specified in the appropriation act.

 A county institution, to become a state institution July 1, 1973.

 These are vocational-technical schools of approximately junior college level. The state appropriation is reported this year for the first time. For 1971-72 it was $9,291,000; for 1970-71 $8,660,000.

The actual two-year rate of increase appears to be about 35 1/2 per cent.
