"We are well beyond the belief that any manner of state regulation is permissible simply because it involves an activity which is a part of the university structure and is financed with funds controlled by the administration. The state is not necessarily the unrestrained master of what it creates and fosters."

* Refer to Table 4, GRAPEVINE page 996

Ten states are as yet unreported. Four of them are in the class of more than $200 million annually. Eight of them are in the class of more than $100 million.

Projections of the 50-state total for fiscal year 1971-72:

For a very low estimate, if these ten states were to appropriate totals only equal to what they appropriated one year ago, the 1971-72 total would come close to $7 1/2 billion.

For a medium estimate, if these states maintain a two-year gain of about 25 per cent, the 1971-72 total will be close to $7 3/4 billion.

New York's annual investment of state tax funds in the operating expenses of higher education is a close second to that of California. These two states, with slightly less than one-fifth of the total population of the United States, appropriated for fiscal year 1971-72 a total of $1.65 billion—slightly more than one-fifth of the prospective total for the 50 states.
