Your Team(s): Are All 8 Roles Covered?

In order for a school to be optimally managed and led, all 8 of the “New Roles to Meet Our Goals” must be present. The good news of distributed leadership is that they don’t all have to be covered by ONE (very tired) person! Rather, the better practice is to assemble one or more school leadership teams comprised of each type of Leader. It is also a good idea to cascade this idea down through all other teams in your school – e.g. grade level teams, content-area teams, etc.

Take-Home Activity: Are All 8 Roles Covered?

Complete this activity with your team(s) in your school. Take as much time as you need to work through this process together.

1. Depending on the organizational structure in your school/district, schedule a meeting with your primary team(s) – which may include (but are not limited to) one or more of the following:
   - Central office / district leadership team
   - School leadership team
   - Grade-level team
   - Content-area / department team
   - Support team

2. Make a photocopy of The 8 Roles of School Leaders™ (District-level) – Team Coverage Assessment for each member of the team.

3. Each member of the team should review The 8 Roles of School Leaders™ (District-level) and complete the assessment individually. (You may wish to assign this a pre-work assignment for the meeting.)

4. As a group, share and discuss your results.

5. Using the Team Coverage Table on the next page, have a recorder enter each team members’ name into the column that corresponds to their level of mastery in each of the 8 Leadership Roles.

6. Use the Team Coverage Guidelines to have a meaningful conversation around the following questions:
   a. Are all of The 8 Roles of School Leaders™ covered by the current membership of our team? If not, what steps must we take to ensure that all roles are covered within our team?
   b. Are there people on the team who can “grow” into one or more of the 8 Roles over time? Brainstorm the learning opportunities that can facilitate (and speed up) that process.
   c. What must we as a team do immediately to “fill the gap” that currently exists? Generate a discussion around reviewing the individual performance skills for each school leader to determine areas where leadership may be lacking.
